GUERNSEY CHOSEN FOR PRIVATE EQUITY GROUP'S ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Private Equity Administrators (PEA) in Guernsey has hosted the group's three-day annual conference bringing together 16 employees from the company's Guernsey, Denmark and Sweden offices.

Among the delegates were group managing director, Peter Toyberg, Guernsey managing director James Orrick and managing director of the Sweden office, Amanda Ekman.

Mr Toyberg opened the event by introducing the company strategic plan and also presented on creating a culture of continuous improvement. Further additions to the program were cyber security, anti-money laundering regulation and international tax reporting. The agenda closed with an employee workshop to generate and prioritise concepts for delivering new improvements to client service.

Guernsey managing director, James Orrick, explained the value of the event:

"This year's conference provided our administration professionals with an innovative platform to exchange knowledge, ideas and experiences across our European and Guernsey offices and was a good reminder that PEA is a dynamic organisation with very talented people.

"PEA is privately owned which makes us fairly unique in the fund administration space and enables us to be agile in how we approach future growth opportunities and to capitalise on the ideas that result from events such as this.

"Taking the opportunity to get together in this way naturally engenders team working and ultimately benefits our clients who reap the benefits of our collective experience."
